Online Education

1. Does all programs/courses were completed on time.	Yes

2. Measures taken to complete the syllabus of courses and programs.

The faculty members use various teaching methods so that higher forms of thinking such as apply, analyze, evaluate and create are promoted amongst the students rather than just focusing on rote memorization. These teaching methods are in tune with the attainment of learning outcomes of various courses taught in the College.

Experiential Learning:

To acquaint the students with facts through direct experiences online Laboratory practicals are conducted in the Geography, Psychology, Computer Application and Fine Arts Departments. Internships included in the BAF programme give exposure to the dynamic commercial world. A 15-Day competition of online stock trading 'Stock Mind' for the Commerce and BAF students help to bridge the gap between classroom teaching and real world. Painting demonstrations and workshops in the BVA department, initiate creative thinking among the students. To discuss literary work and to inculcate the habit of good reading and recitation 'Vachan Katta' activity is undertaken in the departments of Languages.

Participative Learning:

Online Community surveys on Covid issues was conducted by the Commerce Department, are effective ways of real life research experience. Exhibitions organised by the Geography department enhance understanding and application of theoretical knowledge for the participating students. They can gain more insight about the subject matter. Annual Exhibitions of the Visual Art Department of paintings, murals and other art forms enhance creative thinking. 'Manthan' or participation in the concerts by the students of the music department leads to learning and application of the knowledge. Individual projects and presentations undertaken by most of the departments promote cooperative learning as well as interpretation of the information related to courses. Guest lectures of the experts on contemporary issues enable the students in better understanding of the concepts and ideas.

Problem solving :

Problem solving sessions in Statistics, Accounting, Mathematics and Taxation are useful in acquisition of practical skills. Live projects given to the B. Com. Part II and BAF Part I students of Statistics help in evaluation and data interpretation. Case studies and presentations related to mental health problems undertaken by the students of the Psychology Department add to real world learning.

In the academic year 2020-21, due to Covid-19 and lock down situation online teaching was done by all the faculty members on google meet.

Google classrooms are used by the teachers for sharing study material, giving additional information as well as for the assessment.

All the teachers of the Department of Commerce use Youtube links, PPTs, and open source sites. As per the need of the course the faculty members use NPTEL, Swayam, and Microsoft one-note for teaching and learning.

In the Departments of Languages all the faculty members show Youtube videos, share links of the stories and articles. Edu flow, Hypersay, mind maps, IGNOU Gyan Darshan Channel lectures are also used for supporting the teaching learning process.

In the Social Sciences, the Department of Psychology uses mind maps, studio.youtube channel, swayamprabha, one note. The links of Youtube videos, articles, Government reports are used as supplementary resources in the Department of Economics. PPTs, Jamboard, GIS software are used by the Department of Geography for making teaching learning effective.

The Departments of Fine Arts share Pin Art Links, links of Facebook, Youtube videos, ePG Pathshala. In the Music department self prepared audios are shared by the course teachers with the students. Rare CDs and DVDs are also made available to the students for listening and learning classical music. These tools enrich the learning experiences of the students.

The link of the National Digital Library is shared on the Google Classroom.

During the academic year 2020-21, all the internal exams, projects, assignments and the Externals examinations were conducted using Online platform such as Testmoz, Google form etc. The students are encouraged to undertake and submit their assignments and projects, individual or in group by making use of ICT tools. The students undertake data collection of research surveys by making use of Google form.

All the departments share question banks, previous year question papers and revision material on the Google Classrooms.

For online evaluation, Google Forms, Testmoz and H5P tools are used. All the permanent faculty members conduct CIEs and tests through Google Classrooms.
