World Mental Health Day

The Department of Psychology has been celebrating Mental Health awareness week from the 4th of October, 2022. This year the theme for World Mental Health Day as given by the World Federation for Mental Health is, 'Mental Health in an Unequal World.' Adhering to this theme, this week, each day was assigned a topic concerning an inequality in our present world. Due to the current Covid-19 situation, we are conducting today's program on an online platform, and the entire last week- the students of Psychology Department have been posting videos and presentations on different topics for spreading awareness and debunking myths.
